

CONTENTS

---

List of Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgments	xi

Introduction: Race and American Labor History	1
1. “A Deep, Dark Plot”: Race in the Chicago Labor Movement, 1894–1905	10
2. “Every Negro Can Make a Fight”: Race and the CFL Campaign, 1916–1921	38
3. “Demoralized by Its Own Weaknesses”: The Structural Limits of Federated Unionism, 1916–1921	71
4. “Between Two Fires”: White and Black Workers Confront Interracial Unionism, 1916–1921	87
5. “Patience Is No Longer a Virtue”: The CFL and the Chicago Race Riot of 1919	112
6. “Boring from Within”: Race and the Decline of the CFL, 1919–1922	140
Conclusion: The Past, Present, and Future of Interracial Unionism	169

Notes	177
Bibliography	233
Index	245